

Driven by Results.

About us

Shulmans is an award-winning commercial law firm, driven to achieve the best possible results for our clients. This drive inspires our people in their quest to serve clients and has helped create a great place to work.

We serve all sectors of the business world. Our strength in depth, expertise and flexibility provide our strong client base with a reliable, cost-effective, partner-orientated service that delivers time after time.

Driven by

Clients.

International

Many of our clients have business interests overseas, including international customers or suppliers, so we recognised a long time ago the need to help wherever their business takes them.

We believe the best way to do this is as a long standing member of Interlegal, a strong network of like-minded law firms located throughout the world. Our partners are involved in international deals and are active in the Interlegal network, which works by referring clients and working with local, trusted firms to help with country specific advice.

Shulmans is a leading participant in the international activities of Leeds Legal and works collaboratively with the principal agencies engaged in international activity.

Driven by Performance.

Steffen Lorscheider
Spieker & Jaeger
Dortmund, Germany

“As a client, you feel that Shulmans takes in your viewpoint. From this position Shulmans is able to recognise the requirements of the client independently, getting under the client’s skin. Transparency, responsiveness, a clear mode of expression and established legal knowledge also contribute to an exceptional lawyer-client relationship.”

Our Approach

There are four key words which sum up the advice we give our clients:

Personal because we strive to get to the heart of what you want.

Practical because we offer solutions that work in the real world.

Commercial because we get to know what makes your business tick.

Expert because our lawyers are chosen carefully for their knowledge and skills in their specialist areas of the law.

“Our clients deserve the best and that is what we always try to deliver. Anything less will simply not do.”

Chairman

Driven by People.

Our Team

Shulmans is recognised as an outstanding law firm and a great place to work. The quality of our clients and the service they require helps us to attract the very best, committed people and to satisfy their personal ambitions.

Our partners, associates, solicitors and managers all drive the continuous development of the firm and its policies and processes, in order to ensure our clients get a level of service that is second to none. We know that if we look after our people, they will look after our clients.

Our commitment to our people has been reflected in our holding the Investors In People Award for many years and a place in the final of The Yorkshire Post Excellence in Business Awards, in the Best Company to Work For category.

Bill Woolley
City of York Council

“Whilst I realise that you obviously have other work, you have always made it feel like we were your only client and the clear way you have set out your advice has made any decision so much easier.”

Our Services

At Shulmans we aim to provide effective, first class legal services to both business and private clients. We do this through enthusiastic, highly motivated and well trained partners and staff and by using the latest in technology and a personal, practical and commercial approach.

Whatever services we provide we ensure that we get under the skin of our clients so that our advice is honed to take account of their requirements and structure, building in the flexibility necessary to anticipate growth.

Raymond Eyres
Cummins Ltd.

“The Shulmans team are outstanding service partners. They take care to understand our company’s objectives and priorities and consistently provide high quality, cost conscious advice. Our business managers appreciate the team’s responsive, practical and often innovative approach finding commercially smart solutions to business problems.”

Driven by Quality.

Commitment to Quality

At Shulmans, we are committed to providing the best possible service for our clients.

Any organisation worth its salt has quality systems at its heart and we are no exception. Our quality systems not only help us to achieve the Investors in People award and the Law Society’s Lexcel Practice Management Standard, but more importantly they underpin the practical and commercial advice we give to our clients.

This means that our clients can have confidence in us and the work that we do for them.
